UPDATES AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

We hope you all have enjoyed this semester's events from LPA so far. We still have a lot of cool events happening so keep an eye out on this newsletter and our social media for announcements!

This Wednesday February 19, we have Ron Justice who is a J.D. speaking to us! Bring any questions you have with you to our meeting!

WHAT WE'RE POSTING!

Do you have a really funny law related meme that you want to share with us and the rest of the club?

Do you have an event that could be added to the calendar so that more people know about it?

Do you know someone in the legal field that you want to see at one of our meetings talking to us?

Feel free to submit any ideas to us through our email: uncglpa@gmail.com!

When it says to read the terms and conditions and you actually read the terms and conditions

This is what we're posting this week! Do you read the terms and conditions? Let us know on our socials!

OFFICER ELECTIONS

We have announced it quite a bit at our meetings but be on the lookout over the next couple of newsletters for information on our officer positions that you'll be able to run for in April!

We will start posting descriptions of the roles as well as what those roles do with commentary from the officers on the newsletter coming soon!

UNCG SPRING CAREER FAIR

Wednesday February 26 there will be an on campus career fair that hosts many companies to learn more information about internship and full time opportunities. Some of the company names attending are Amazon, CIA, Lincoln Financial, and Volvo. The career fair will be held in the Kaplan Center from 1:00—4:30 pm. Elon Law will also be in attendance.

Dress professionally and bring a copy of your resume. This will be a good chance to network!
